

EDITORIAL

Lessons from a bond auction

In May this year, poor demand for the auction of 20-year US Treasury bills drove the greenback down and triggered a stock market selloff. US government bonds were effectively being treated as a proxy for wider investor concerns about the US economy, budget deficit, and the Trump administration’s policies.

Featured stories from the September 2025 issue of Asia Asset Management

- Interview with Yen-Liang Chen, vice chairperson of Taiwan’s Financial Supervisory Commission
- Seeking alpha and beta
- Fund Manager Survey 2025
- For pension giant GPIF, effective asset allocation is key to managing investments
- The total portfolio approach to holistic management of capital
- From hype to reality
- Taiwan harnesses wealth and tech in bold asset management plan
- A “capital of capital”
- Time to step up

Latest News

Singapore’s Temasek forms three new entities in revamp

| 4 September 2025

Investments: The new organisational structure will become effective on April 1 next year

Indonesia wealth fund Danantara and China’s GEM plan US\$1.42 billion nickel smelter

| 4 September 2025

Investments: Danantara CEO says the partnership with GEM can help accelerate Indonesia’s socioeconomic transformation

Korea’s GEPS opens tender for 1.2 trillion won foreign equity mandate

| 4 September 2025

Market Access: Tender applicants must have at least three years of experience managing foreign equities

As per the Guidance on Direct Marketing issued by the Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data in Hong Kong which took effect on April 1, 2013, we would like to inform you that we intend to continue sending you promotional emails such as newsletters, new promotions and product updates. If you do not wish to receive such emails, please contact us at news@asiaasset.com. For enquiries please contact us at (852) 2547-7331.

